2017 DAYTONA 500 ON FOX PRODUCTION ELEMENTS

DIGITAL CAR CHANNELS

FOX Sports provides channels dedicated to specific cars throughout Daytona Speedweeks. Each "Car Channel" contains advanced data, a dedicated in-car camera with unedited team communications audio and multiple camera angles along with dedicated cameras in the pits. These channels stream on FOX Sports GO and will be utilized at times during the broadcast on FOX. The Car Channels debut during The Clash at Daytona on Saturday, Feb. 18, featuring seven-time and defending NASCAR Monster Energy Cup Series champion Jimmie Johnson and former champion Kevin Harvick.

TOUCHSCREEN CUTAWAY CAR

FOX Sports has enhanced its 3D-cutaway car, putting these graphics in the hands of the broadcast team. In addition to a touchscreen in the Hollywood Hotel, this year FOX NASCAR analyst Larry McReynolds has his own dedicated touchscreen inside the booth, allowing for immediate access to enhance any technical story, giving the viewer clear illustrative explanations.

VIRTUAL GRAPHICS

Camera-tracking technologies from Stype provide FOX Sports the ability to place 3D-graphics in the real environment by combining with VIZRT for the graphic rendering. For example, specialty graphics including virtual leaderboards, sponsor enhancements and race summaries, are placed on Turn 3 as giant virtual billboards.

MORE SUPER MOTION AND HIGHER FRAME RATES

High-speed cameras are placed in strategic areas to replay the action in super slow motion.

- FOX Sports uses more super-motion and high-resolution cameras than ever before in a Daytona 500, including:
 - Next generation high-frame-rate 4k cameras; with these cameras, FOX can break down a wreck in multiple ways using a single camera shot, including zooming into the car that caused the wreck, the car that got caught up in it and the one that got away.
- Gopher Cam returns for its ninth season of NASCAR, now with a new lens and new positions including directly in harm's way right in the middle of the track as the full lineup of cars drive over it.

GOPHER CAM – A CAMERA IN THE TRACK

FOX's Gopher Cam is a tiny high-definition point-of-view camera buried underneath the asphalt track surface. The cameras have been paired with high-quality condenser microphones for an unbelievably realistic audio/video experience. Advances in lens quality and materials enable FOX to provide a much wider and clearer field of view. For Daytona, there are three cameras placed in harm's way, including one in Turn 4 and another on the backstretch, positioned so cars run the cameras over at more than 200 mph.

HAT CAM and PIT WALK

Viewers can go for a pre-race walk with two-time Daytona 500 winner and FOX NASCAR analyst Michael Waltrip down pit row – seeing what Michael sees with the RF hat camera.

CRANK IT UP!

As always, FOX Sports gives viewers a chance to truly test the ability of their home stereo system with its hugely popular “CRANK IT UP” segment, in which FOX Sports Emmy-winning audio team allows viewers to listen to the action on the track as if they were there.

During the 59th running of the Daytona 500 on FOX, look out for the “CRANK IT UP” channel on FOX Sports GO.

EQUIPMENT BREAKDOWN

FOX Sports employs seven main mobile production units in the multi-network television compound at Daytona International Speedway. In addition, the network’s coverage from Speedweeks requires two satellite uplinks and a set of mobile generators that provide nearly two megawatts of power independent of the local power source. This command center directs the following arsenal of production equipment:

- 20 manned cameras
- 3 in-track ground cameras
- 2 High Frame Rate 4K Cameras
- 2 Xmo cameras located at the end of pit road and the start/finish line
- 4 Super Slow Motion Cameras
- 10 Robotic Cameras around the ring
- 3 robotic Hollywood Hotel cameras
- Jib camera with Augmented Reality Enhancement
- 8 in-car camera packages, each featuring three different camera angles
- 4 wireless roving pit/garage camera crews
- 2 in-car Gyro-Cams
- Massive amount of digital replay devices and a rolling archive of past races
- 43 race team communication radios, one for each car on the track
- More than 150 microphones placed along the track and throughout Daytona International Speedway
- Racing Radios edit unit – deployed to get the most radio chatter on the air as possible.
- The iconic Hollywood Hotel mobile studio

HISTORY & TIMELINE

November 1999	FOX Sports reaches comprehensive agreement with NASCAR, giving FOX broadcast and cable television rights for Nextel Cup and Busch Grand National Series racing from 2001-'08.
February 2001	NASCAR on FOX's inaugural season begins with Daytona 500.
July 2001	FOX purchases Speedvision; FOX management begins with NASCAR programming deal in place through 2012.
February 2002	Speedvision re-launches as SPEED Channel during Daytona SpeedWeeks with strong NASCAR lineup; SPEED in 46 million homes.
April 2002	The National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences recognizes FOX Sports' inaugural season covering NASCAR at its annual awards presentation. NASCAR on FOX coverage receives three Emmys, more than any single sports series. Despite having never broadcast a single race prior to 2001, FOX's NASCAR coverage wins awards for Outstanding Live Sports Series, Technical Team Remote and Graphic Design.
February 2003	SPEED Channel joins FOX partners in delivering more than 75 hours of programming from Daytona Speedweeks (SPEED Channel had a little more than eight hours in 2002); SPEED Channel now in 59 million homes. NASCAR Camping World Truck Series debuts on SPEED with 1.03 Nielsen rating (576,000 HH), highest Daytona NCWTS rating since 2000 series debut at Daytona.
February 2005	CableCam, an 80-pound high-definition camera, is successfully tested during FOX Sports' BUDWEISER SHOOTOUT broadcast and for the first time plays a significant role in the network's coverage of the Daytona 500. Suspended by a system of cables, pulleys and computer-controlled winches 30 feet above ground, CableCam is a mobile, gyro-stabilized HD aerial camera that can move anywhere within a rectangular box between the front stretch and pit road.
December 2005	FOX Sports expands its relationship with NASCAR through the 2013 season and becomes official home of the Daytona 500. In agreement, SPEED is awarded rights to NASCAR ALL-STAR RACE and BUDWEISER DUEL AT DAYTONA beginning in 2007.
February 2007	NASCAR on FOX introduces "FOX 3D" virtual replays that have the ability to illustrate on-track incidents in a manner never before possible. FOX 3D is able to present computer-generated visualizations from an infinite number of vantage points created from real-time data collected from each car on the track.

March 2007 Darrell Waltrip (Sports Event Analyst) and Jeff Hammond (Studio Analyst) are nominated for 28th Annual Sports Emmy® Awards for their work during the 2006 NASCAR on FOX season.

February 2008 FOX Sports introduces Gopher Cam, a small, stationary high-definition point-of-view camera buried beneath the asphalt track surface, inches below the yellow line. Four Gopher Cams are in place for the 50th Daytona 500, one in each of the track's four turns.

February 2009 Digger, an animated gopher conceived by FOX Sports Chairman and Executive Producer David Hill, accompanies NASCAR on FOX's in-race use of Gopher Cam. Digger, along with an expanded cast of friends, comes to life with full 3D computer graphic image animation.

May 2010 SPEED offers live coverage of the inaugural NASCAR Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony from the NASCAR Hall of Fame in Charlotte, N.C.

February 2011 FOX Sports unveils FOX Thermal-Cam, a special camera designed to register variations in the heat signature of objects in its line of sight.

September 2011 Michael Waltrip joins the FOX NASCAR SUNDAY prerace team, taking a seat in famed Hollywood Hotel alongside brother, Darrell, and host Chris Myers.

January 2012 Darrell Waltrip becomes a NASCAR Hall of Famer, entering as a proud member of the NASCAR Hall of Fame's third class.

October 2012 NASCAR and FOX Sports announce extensive new eight-year, multiplatform media rights agreement that ensures FOX Sports' broadcast of NASCAR racing through 2022.

February 2013 FOX Deportes telecasts Daytona 500 live in Spanish for first time ever with announcers Jorge Koechlin von Stein and Tony Rivera.

August 2013 FOX Sports launches FOX Sports 1, America's new sports network, available in nearly 90,000,000 homes at launch, slated to carry entities such as FIFA World Cup, MLB, NASCAR, NFL, UFC and collegiate conferences like the Big Ten, Big 12, Big East, Conference USA, Pac-12, and soccer leagues around the world to develop a full, robust programming schedule. FOX Sports 1 has nearly 5,000 hours of live event, news and original programming annually. FOX Sports 2 launches simultaneously.

August 2013 Less than 10 months after announcing a multi-platform, multi-series media rights agreement with NASCAR through 2022, FOX Sports and NASCAR extend agreement through 2024. In addition, FOX Sports adds exclusive rights to three additional NASCAR Cup Series events and the first 14 NASCAR XFINITY Series events of each season. FOX Sports now holds rights to the first 16 Cup Series races, first 14 XFINITY Series races and the entire NCWTS season, beginning in 2015.

January 2014 FOX Sports announces that, for the first time ever, FOX Sports GO, the app that provides live streaming video of FOX Sports content, is set to offer live, streaming coverage of the 2014 Daytona 500. FOX Sports GO features two separate live streams of the 56th running of the Daytona 500: the customary FOX Sports broadcast in English and the FOX Deportes telecast in Spanish. FOX Deportes also set to telecast 13 NASCAR Cup Series points-paying races in 2014, seven of which are live.

May 2014	For the first time, FOX Sports 1 offers FOX SPORTS 1 – 10 DAYS OF THUNDER in May. The special multi-sport programming block is anchored by two weekends of NASCAR racing from Charlotte Motor Speedway, highlighted by live coverage of the NASCAR SPRINT ALL-STAR RACE, NASCAR CAMPING WORLD TRUCK SERIES race and the COCA-COLA 600, in addition to comprehensive support programming and premieres of FOX Sports 1 originals.
May 2014	FOX Sports 1 and NASCAR Productions present 100,000 CAMERAS: THE NASCAR SPRINT ALL STAR RACE, a groundbreaking concept in programming that incorporates fan- and driver-generated video to showcase the race from fans' points of view, delivering an unprecedented portrayal of race day from all perspectives.
January 2015	FOX NASCAR announces that MONSTER ENERGY NASCAR CUP SERIES champions Kevin Harvick, Jeff Gordon and Brad Keselowski are scheduled to rotate as race analysts for FOX Sports' coverage of the NASCAR XFINITY SERIES in 2015. In addition, AJ Allmendinger, Todd Bodine, Greg Biffle, Wally Dallenbach, Joey Logano, Drew Blickensderfer and Chad Knaus join NASCAR RACE HUB as analysts.
February 2015	All NASCAR programming telecast on FOX, FS1 and FS2 is streamed live on FOX Sports GO, the app that provides live streaming video of FOX Sports content at home or on-the-go.
February 2015	FOX NASCAR commences its 15 th consecutive season of MONSTER ENERGY NASCAR CUP SERIES race coverage, its inaugural season of NASCAR XFINITY SERIES coverage and its 13 th consecutive year as the exclusive home of the NASCAR CAMPING WORLD TRUCK SERIES.
May 2015	FOX NASCAR earns its fourth Sports Emmy Award for Outstanding Live Sports Series for its coverage of the 2014 MONSTER ENERGY NASCAR CUP SERIES season, marking its 18 th Sports Emmy Award since 2001.
May 2015	FOX NASCAR announces four-time NASCAR CUP SERIES champion Jeff Gordon will join its television booth in 2016 as analyst alongside Mike Joy and Darrell Waltrip.
February 2016	FOX NASCAR hits the air from Daytona Speedweeks with its new on-air team of play-by-play announcer Mike Joy and analysts Darrell Waltrip and Jeff Gordon, who combine for seven NASCAR CUP SERIES championships; FOX Sports offers Virtual Reality coverage of Daytona 500 for the first time.
May 2016	FOX NASCAR earns the Sports Emmy for Outstanding Live Event Audio/Sound, a category it has won every year since 2006, and 14 of the last 15 years.
January 2017	FOX NASCAR announces former MONSTER ENERGY NASCAR CUP SERIES champion Kevin Harvick returns as a driver analyst for five NASCAR XFINITY SERIES races in 2017, as well as three NASCAR CAMPING WORLD TRUCK SERIES events, marking the most races a current Cup Series driver has called for FOX since it added driver analysts in 2015.

2017 FOX SPORTS MOTOR SPORTS LINEUP

In addition to NASCAR, FOX Sports also is home to some of the most-watched motor sports series in the world, including:

NATIONAL HOT ROD ASSOCIATION (NHRA)

FOX Sports' second season of National Hot Rod Association (NHRA) coverage is highlighted by 16 live events, including four on broadcast television, and begins with the Circle K NHRA Winternationals on Sunday, Feb. 12. Live coverage of Sunday finals also will be showcased during the last 12 consecutive races, including during each stop of the six-race NHRA Mello Yello Countdown to the Championship, NHRA's playoffs.

The Chevrolet Performance U.S. Nationals, the world's most prestigious drag race from historic Lucas Oil Raceway at Indianapolis, will offer nine hours of coverage on both FS1 and FOX. The race will be televised with two qualifying shows and five hours of coverage of Monday's finals, including two hours on FS1 and three hours on FOX. All coverage airing on FOX and FS1 is live streamed on FOX Sports GO.

The on-air team is led by veteran NHRA broadcaster Dave Rieff (@DaveRieff), two-time NHRA Funny Car Champion Tony Pedregon (@TonyPedregon), Bruno Massel (@BrunoMassel), Jamie Howe (@1JamieHowe) and John Kernan (@JohnKernanNHRA). To keep up with the season on Twitter, follow #NHRAonFOX.

For more information on the series, please visit: www.NHRA.com

MONSTER ENERGY SUPERCROSS

FOX Sports carries the entire 17-race MONSTER ENERGY AMA SUPERCROSS, an FIM World Championship, season across the FOX family of networks, with most races carried live on FS1. Calling the races for FOX Sports is long-time play-by-play voice Ralph Sheheen (@ralphsheheen) with analysis from 1997 450SX class champion Jeff Emig (@emig47) and five-time 450SX class titlist Ricky Carmichael (@RickyCarmichael), while Jenny Taft (@JennyTaft) has the latest from pit road. This season, the Indianapolis, Salt Lake City and East Rutherford, N.J., events will be carried live on the FOX broadcast network. All MONSTER ENERGY SUPERCROSS races are available via FOX Sports GO.

Other featured Feld Motor Sports properties include: Monster Jam (@MonsterJam); AMSOIL Arenacross Featuring Ricky Carmichael's Road To Supercross; and the $1 million-to-sweep Monster Energy Cup (@VegasMECup), all to be televised by either FS1 or FS2. The AMSOIL Arenacross Series (@ArenaCross), the official feeder system to the Monster Energy Supercross Series, will have 12 rounds telecast on FS1.

For more information on the series, please visit: www.SupercrossLIVE.com

ARCA RACING SERIES

The ARCA Racing Series (@ARCA_Racing) celebrates its 65th year of competition with 10 races televised on FS1 and FS2. Starting with its traditional 200-lap race at Daytona International Speedway on Saturday, Feb. 18, this versatile stock car racing organization boasts some of the sport's most successful veterans and talented young drivers.

Kevin Lee and Ralph Sheheen call ARCA RACING SERIES coverage for FOX Sports, with analysis from Phil Parsons and Jim Tretow and pit reporting by Tretow and Heather DeBeaux.

IMSA WEATHERTECH UNITED SPORTSCAR CHAMPIONSHIP

In the fourth year of a five-year agreement with FOX Sports and sanctioned by the International Motor Sports Association (@IMSA), the WEATHERTECH UNITED SPORTSCAR CHAMPIONSHIP's (@UnitedSportscar) fourth season unfolds on the network's multiple media channels. Coverage includes three of sports car racing's most prestigious events – the Rolex 24 at Daytona, the Sebring 12 Hours and Petit Le Mans.

The 2017 campaign features four competitive classes led by Prototype and GT Le Mans. In addition, a full season of the Continental Tire Challenge Series, IMSA's popular production-based companion championship, also is televised on FS1, FS2 and FOX Sports GO.

Throughout the season, Greg Creamer (@GregCreamer13) and Calvin Fish (@CalvinFish) call the action with Brian Till (@BrianTill19), Justin Bell (@justinbelltv) and Jamie Howe (@ReporterJamie) in the pits. For more information on the series, please visit: www.IMSA.com

FIA WORLD ENDURANCE CHAMPIONSHIP (WEC)

In a landmark television deal announced in 2015, all WEC (@FIAWEC) races air live across the FOX Sports family of networks, including the iconic 24 Hours of Le Mans. More than 33 hours of live FIA WEC race coverage airs on FS1 or FS2, with all racing available live through FOX Sports GO.

The WEC features multiple classes of cars competing in endurance races, with sports prototypes competing in the Le Mans Prototype categories, and production-based grand tourers competing in the LM GTE categories.

FIA FORMULA E CHAMPIONSHIP

The third season of FIA Formula E Championship (@FIAFormulaE), the world's first all-electric international racing series, is televised on FOX Sports and its numerous multi-media platforms. Ten races are scheduled for the 2016-17 season, which kicked off in Beijing in October 2016, with the first race of 2017 on Feb. 18 (3:30 PM ET on FS2) in Buenos Aires, and features some of the world's biggest cities, including Paris, Berlin, Moscow and London.

The 2016-17 season is highlighted by the debut of Formula E in New York -- racing in Brooklyn on a 13-corner, 1.21-mile track on the shores of New York Harbour at the Brooklyn Cruise Terminal. The race -- the first FIA-sanctioned open-wheel race to take place within the five boroughs of New York City in modern history -- runs through Red Hook and will be called the New York City ePrix, a doubleheader over two days in July.
